

Billion Dollar Closer Tim Steele Joins Crux Commercial Partners Financial Growth Only for These Experienced Commercial Real Estate Brokers Amidst International Pandemic

PORTLAND, OR (July 28, 2020) – With so much uncertainty in the stock market one thing has been consistently profitable...real estate. There has been no better time to start investing. Crux Commercial Partners have witnessed this firsthand. Because of the demand they are opening a Portland location headed by its newest partner, Tim Steele.

“I’m looking forward to bringing my passion for helping other achieve their dreams. Commercial real estate is what I do best and partnering with a company as successful as Crux Commercial Partners gives me the opportunity to stimulate the economy in my hometown of Portland,” says new partner Tim Steele.

Mr. Steele brings with him 15 years of commercial real estate experience at all levels helping investors with over $1 billion in loan transactions. Although Tim has produced loans all over the United States he’s a true Northwesterner at heart. He’s a guy that understands his market at all levels.

Jacob Wilson, Partner states, “We’re truly excited to add Tim as a partner. He brings a deep knowledge how to grow a company with a portfolio as large as ours. We know with his added expertise, Crux Commercial Partners will continue the success and growth we’ve been seeing throughout our last couple of years.”

Crux Commercial Partners has seen nothing but progress and triumph in the already existing Seattle Metropolitan Area location. Its partners Jacob Wilson and Robb Hawkins bring a combined 25 years of high-level commercial lending experience. With over $1.5 billion in loan closures, they have a specific skill sets in many commercial markets. Clients range from prominent well-known figures and developers / investors to small business owner operators. Quite simply, they just close deals. They are a proven catalyst for success.
